Hongkong, October 4, 1880.

THE CHINESE MAIL.

THIS paper is now issued every day.

The subscription is fixed at Four Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Seven Dollars Fifty Cents including postage to Coast ports.

It is the first Chinese Newspaper issued under purely native direction. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business and legal footing.

The projects, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports of China and Japan—Australia, California, Singapore, Fomang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese—consider themselves justified in guaranteeing a large and ever-increasing circulation. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of them.

The field opened by a paper of this description—conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in tone—is almost limitless. It is on the one hand commands Chinese belief and interest, while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners.

Like English journals it contains Editorials, with Local, Shipping, and Commercial News, and Advertisements.

Subscriptions for the above may be sent to GEO. MURRAY BAIN, China Mail Office.

Unitarian minister having proved too heterodox for the pulpit, the preacher devoted himself to scholarly pursuits and authorship. The son of the late Dr Samuel Johnson, one of the most successful physicians in Salem, Mr Johnson was enabled by his independent position to devote his life entirely to study. An admiring contemporary thus writes of the deceased author:—

"Mr Johnson has often been derided by those who did not know him, as an opponent of Christianity; but few lives within the fold have been more conscientiously devoted to Christian principles. If his uncompromising honesty sometimes failed to take sufficiently into account the truly religious feeling of reverence in his hearers, he never wilfully spoke an irreverent word."

Mr Johnson was never a materialist, and had no sympathy for that phase of modern thought. The duty was to him the indwelling spirit, the Eternal Principle of goodness and truth, mirrored in every pure conscience.

He was eloquent in words to an unusual degree, but the spirit, the unseen influence of the pure soul within him, was his loftiest sermon. He has left us with his great work unfinished, just as his literary worth was being recognized, the reward of the faithful labor of his ripe years. Others may take up that work and show us the Universal Religion alike under all outward forms: he illustrated the religious principle in his daily life.

In his work, entitled Oriental Religions and their Relation to Universal Religion, Mr Johnson displayed an amount of learning which, in an author who had what may be termed an outside view of his subject, was simply marvellous. As a competent critic has observed, "His essays on Chinese philosophy are based on the fullest information available at present, and are written in so lively and lucid a manner that these articles are about the best that have yet been published on the subject."

He decidedly impresses us as an authority on Chinese subjects, but his conception of Christianity appears to us decidedly unorthodox and unwarranted."

A Bazaar in aid of the funds of the Italian Convent was opened this afternoon within the Convent grounds. This, the fourth, annual bazaar has been held in the most auspicious weather, and what would have been an almost entire failure in inauspicious circumstances has turned so far a complete success. The Convent has long been established in the colony and has done much good work, and at the present time there are no less than 300 inmates participants of its bounty, including among them 60 Chinese children under five years of age, who at this early age will be eager recipients of the instructions which are given them by the sisters who labour so earnestly and ardently for their welfare. Last year the sum realized was something like $2,000, and we trust that this respectable sum has been exceeded by this year's proceeds. The stalls were placed under the lower verandah of the front of the building, and were twelve in number. They were most tastefully and prettily arranged, and were loaded with all the fancy and useful articles common to such occasions. A considerable number of flags draped the walls, and above the main entrance was placed the portrait of the founder of the Convent, to which body the sisters belong. The square in front was set with seats, while the Band of the Buffs occupied part, and enlivened the proceedings with a selection of music. The ladies, always inseparable from bazaars, were present in abundance, and many were the wiles employed to induce the visitors to disburse their loose cash. The twelve stalls were presided over by the following ladies: Mrs A. F. Alves, and Miss Allanson, the first; Mrs M. A. Braga, the second; Mrs Carvalho, and Mrs Gomes, the third; Mrs A. A. Roza, and Mrs D. da Costa, the fourth; Mrs and the Misses Rozario, the fifth; Mrs Von Mollendorn, the sixth; Mrs Loureiro, and Madame Vaucher, the seventh; Mrs Antonio and Mrs Mackintosh, the eighth; Mrs J. H. Remedios, and the Misses Leiria, the ninth; Mrs Foster and Mrs Hartigan, the tenth; Mrs D. Noronha, and Mrs A. de Brito, the eleventh; and Mrs Fleming and Mrs Rozario, the twelfth; while the refreshment stall was under the supervision of Mrs G. M. Carvalho, and Miss Braga. We mention that a large quantity of the articles sold was provided by the industry of the children.

The band performed the following selection in excellent style, under the leadership of Bandmaster Quinn:—
MARCH, "The Queens," "Riverside," "Overture," "Bauer and Dichter," "Supper," "Valse," "Happy Thoughts," "Pomp," "Scherzo," "La Traviata," "Verdi," "Gipsy Anthem," "Russian," "Wings of Love," "Meyer."

On Friday evening a crime was committed by some men, dressed in the uniform of Chinese Customs Officers, which will likely entail some difficulty in settling. About half past seven at that evening a boat-woman, named See Na See, embarked a passenger, named Chan Aye, alone, in a small pullway boat, to carry him to the Mainland opposite. The man had frequently been conveyed in the same manner by this woman, and as usual, on this occasion he took with him a basket containing about three catties of tobacco. They both rowed, and when the boat had nearly entered the Ly-se-moon pass some yards, about 30 yards from the Hong-kong side, a boat supposed to be a Chinese revenue cutter, and containing ten men, hailed them, and ordered them to stop rowing. This order they disobeyed, and after being hailed three times, three shots were fired by the men in the strange boat.

one of the bullets entering the right breast of the passenger. Three of the men then took the boatwoman on board their boat, accusing her of smuggling, and took her boat in tow with the dead man in it, proceeding in the same direction as they had come from, that of Pak-sai-wan. After proceeding to a small bay near Pak-sai-wan they set the boat adrift, with the deceased on board, leaving the basket with the three catties of tobacco. They then put the woman on shore at a small island and departed. The woman remained on this island all night, and next morning hailed a fishing boat, but the occupants of this craft refused to take her, as there were already too many in their boat; they however, promised to send a boat from Shau-ki-wan. Some time after therefore, one of the quaiers of that village rowed to the island, and took the woman off. She immediately reported the affair to the police, who went in search of the woman's boat, which they were successful in finding. An inquest was held to-day at the Government Civil Hospital, before the Coroner, H. E. Woodhouse, Esq., and the following gentlemen as jurors: Messrs D. W. Schwomann, J. F. Shuster, and F. J. R. Schwarzkopf, regarding the death of the man, when the woman gave evidence to the same effect as the above. The inquest was adjourned until Thursday at half-past two at the Magistracy. The Coroner ordered a post mortem examination of the body to be made in the interval, and he, along with the Jurymen and the woman, are to visit the scene of the occurrence. At the present time it is believed that the outrage took place in British waters, so that, perhaps, some international questions may crop up in its consideration.

We (N. C. D. News) hear from Hongkong that no doubt need exist about the fact of the Governor's recall, as the last incident has proved to be more than the long-suffering Colonial Office could bear with. The Administrator, the Hon. Mr Marsh, has taken office. He commenced his rule by many changes in the official appointments made by Governor Henslow. It is said that many useful improvements, long delayed or obstructed by the ex-Governor, will be proceeded with at once. The condition of the Colony of Victoria as regards sanitation, water supply, state of roads, system of education etc., is thoroughly bad, and many works will be required to repair the minute and neglect of the ex-Governor. We have also had a report was circulated, that he would re-appear in China as successor to Sir Thomas Wade, but there seems to be no sound reason for expecting such an alarming event.

With regard to the appointment of H. E. Major-General Sargent to the command of the troops in China and the Straits Settlements the following notice appears in Saturday's Gazette:—
(1) Her Majesty the Queen having been graciously pleased to appoint Major-General Sargent, C.B., to command the troops in China and Straits Settlements, in succession to General Donovan, H.E. the Major-General assumes command from this date.
(2) His Royal Highness the Earl of Mar, Comd-in-Chief has been pleased to approve of Major F. Cardew, 2nd Battalion, South Lancashire Regiment, being appointed Assistant Military Secretary to Major-General Sargent, C.B., on his assuming command of the troops in China and Straits Settlements.

The following is the account given of the loss of the Holyrood in the Singapore Times of 28th ultimo:—
"Almost innumerable 'tale of the sea' is told by a Chinaman who arrived here yesterday morning in the pigmy steamer Mangko Ahnauet, from Trinaganu. This man, whose name is Goh Ah Kew, states that he was the Chin Chew's cook on board the steamer Holyrood, regarding the fate of which so much anxiety has been felt. 'The Chin Chew is the Chinese supercargo, who attends to loading and discharging the cargo, and has his own crew for that purpose. The Chin Chew had nine tallies on board, making with himself ten men not borne on the ship's articles, and Ah Kew says the vessel had also one Chinese passenger from Saigon, thus making eleven besides those already given as forming the ship's company. He says he had been four months on board the Holyrood. She had a general cargo, and was not so deeply laden as our former voyages. All went well until about six hours after leaving Cape St. James, when she encountered bad weather; there being a very heavy sea, and the ship labouring very heavily and shipping much water, the engines suddenly stopped owing to the fire being put out by the water in the stoke-hold. The Captain set all hands to pumping and baling, but the water gained upon them fast, and it was determined to leave the ship. The Captain and officers, with the Chin Chew and cook and some of the men, got into a boat, and pushed off astern. Two men failed in an attempt to get into this boat, and were drowned. The engineers and a great number of people got into another boat, evidently overweighing her, for in a few minutes afterwards Ah Kew saw this boat swamped with all her living freight. He, being still on board, and the ship fast settling down, took a plank and sprang overboard, swimming away from the vessel, which soon afterwards went down stern first. After floating all night by the aid of this plank, in the morning he found himself close to the cabin skylight, to which six men, three Chinese and three Malays, were clinging. He swam to this also, and held on with them, remaining there six days without food or water, his comrades all one by one succumbing to privation and exposure and finding a watery grave; and he only supported his own life. He was picked up in an exhausted condition by a small fishing boat, and taken to a village near Trinaganu, where he remained several days in a Chinese hut. After remaining a fortnight at Trinaganu, he was brought on to Singapore in this little steamer. After communicating with the owners of the Holyrood (Messrs. Bun Hin & Co.), who give evidence to the man's story, he was taken to the Master Attendant's Office and his statement taken down. It is possible, according to his statement, that there may be more survivors of the ill-fated steamer. The Captain's boat may have reached some part of the East Coast, and he and his comrades may yet be heard from."

"IL BARBIERE DI SIVIGLIA."
The second subscription performance (second series) of the Italian Opera Company was given at the Grand Theatre on Saturday night, to a fairly well-filled house. Taking the performance as a whole, we are inclined to think that Il Barbiere di Siviglia was perhaps the best which the Company has yet given. It would probably be nearer the truth were it said that "Favorita" and "The Barber" have been the most successful efforts of the Company here; and were the reputation of this body of artists to be gauged by these two public appearances, their rank as operatic performers would certainly be very much above the ordinary run of companies which visit these shores. After making every allowance for the marked advantage which Rossini's lively music and the humorous dialogue undoubtedly give to a successful performance of "The Barber," the admirable manner in which all those included in the cast acquitted themselves on this occasion, was a genuine and pleasant surprise. Excepting a little feebleness in the chorus and the scenery, and an unfortunate stenographic revival of the prompter, the presentation of this opera was an undoubted success. It is unnecessary either to detail the plot, in the course of which the Barber helps the course of true love, or to minutely characterize the personalities of the various characters. But the surprise which overtook the audience when Figaro hopped upon the stage was complete. Those who had admired Figaro in his heavier characters, and who had carefully noted his grace and dignity therein, were doubtful whether the accomplished baritone could do justice to the light comedy and rattling banter demanded of him by the pre-eminently funny Figaro. As the Barber, however, the Figaro was simply transformed: he did not appear to be the same man as formerly, and indeed, he seemed to have physically shrunk himself in order to better hide his identity. Naturally the music prevented any display of the full power of his voice; but the wonder was that he succeeded in adapting his powerful chest notes to the style of music here required of him. Unquestionably his representation of Figaro was one of the most enjoyable treats we have ever had in this Colony; and those who heard and witnessed it should be thankful for the rare opportunity given them. Signor Silini (as Figaro) and Signor Vanzetti (as Count Almaviva) were both in capital voice, and each acted with great vivacity and care. La Rosina of the Signora was charmingly natural, and there was no sign whatever of that exaggeration which has marked some of the personalities of this cultured actress. Her singing was everything that could be desired—her rendering of the "Una voce," as well as that of the Spanish choros she selected in the singing lesson, eliciting thoughts of applause. Signor Vanzetti carried himself bravely as the strategic lover, and he was in capital voice. His serenade was admirably given, and throughout he sang with great effort and much vivacity, thus fitting in most happily with the other two principal characters. Rosina, the Count, and Figaro were over and over again recalled to receive the well-merited plaudits of the delighted audience. It is with pleasure that we can here conscientiously speak a good word for Signor Corti, whose representation of Don Basilio, the music-master, was highly creditable. The Signor's reverberative style of singing we can never fully appreciate, but his rendering of the aria "La Calumnia" gave strong evidence that he possesses dramatic power of a very high order, and this fact was admirably appreciated by those present on this occasion. We must not omit to mention that Signor Bertolini acted and sang well in the part of Berta; that Signor Paterno has never before appeared to such advantage as he did on this occasion as Don Bartolo; and that the minor part of Fiorillo was undertaken by Signor Brancetti. Signor Cattaneo's accompaniment was everything that could be desired.

We note that Signor Vanzetti takes his benefit on Wednesday night, when "Lucia di Lammermoor" will be performed.

Until those negotiations are concluded it would not be convenient to produce further papers. Her Majesty's Government are not aware that the Chinese Government have sanctioned any increase in the import duty on opium.

This match was continued at noon to-day (10th) by four of the Club going into the field accompanied by seven substitutes, to whom the thanks of the H. K. C. The rest of the side did not stop long, and one man being absent, the innings closed for 114, leaving the Club victors in one innings and 17 runs.

CORRESPONDENCE.
A SUGGESTION.
To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL."

Hongkong, April 10.
Sir,—In your issue of the 8th inst. it was suggested that in the coming Military Athletic Sports, at least two open events might be entered on the programme. As one who like to have scales laid down, I ask why should the Military open their races to the members of the Civilian Club, when the Civilian Club do not hold open events to the military? At the last Civilian Athletic meeting there was one race (quarter of a mile) given by H. E. Lieut. General Gordon for soldiers only, but I believe it was only on account of his quitting this command that this race was allowed to be held at the Civilian Sports. Why not have sports open to Civilians, Army and Navy, and let a small entrance fee be given by those who wish to compete, and call them the Hongkong United Athletic Sports? I do not think that would meet with general approval. If you would kindly insert this in to-day's issue, you will oblige
A. COMPLETTOR.

SANITATION.
To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL."
April 10th.

Sir,—The letter of your correspondent "Hongkong" contains several statements which seem to me inaccurate. I purpose with your permission to deal with them as they occur.

1st. In my former letter, I said I did not think dried earth in itself sufficient, and I recommended a mixture of that and wood-ashes or charcoal to be used. This "Hongkong" seems to have overlooked. I cannot agree with him that the dried earth, when obtained from a loess either as decomposed or disintegrated, is an experience leading me to arrive at just an opposite conclusion. A controversy of this kind, however, can easily be settled by actual experiments.

2nd. Your correspondent seems to be at a loss to know how to deal with the solid excreta when collected. No one has ever suggested, to my knowledge, the utilization of night soil entirely or even in part in this Colony; but I would ask what difficulty there is to prevent us from carrying our superabundant manure over to Kowloon and the adjoining districts, and there to fertilize the soil for agricultural purposes. I must confess I do not share his anxiety on this point. We must not omit to mention, we know we can dispose of it anywhere and at a good price.

3rd. As regards the quantity of matter to be removed daily, assuming dried earth to be used. I admit it may be considerable, still the figures given by "Hongkong" are excessive. For in the first place, taking the population of this Colony to be 120,000, we must not treat them all as adults. There are a great number of women and children among them, which materially affects his calculation. Then again, his quotation from the "Minute of the Army Sanitary Committee" gives the quantity of dried earth at 2 to 3 lbs. per head, and the usual allowance given as sufficient is 1½ to 1½ lbs. to each person. And again, although I partially agree with him in his remark concerning vegetarians, I box to quote a passage from the work already referred to:—"On an average, in Europe, the daily solid excreta are about 4 ozs. by weight, and the daily fluid excreta 50 ozs. by measure for each male adult."

Taking all ages and both sexes into consideration, we may estimate the daily amount per head of population in Europe at 2½ ozs. of fecal discharge. With these corrections, the figures will be considerably below 50 tons for the 24 hours.

Now, as regards the cost of labour for a large amount of night soil, I have no doubt that it could be easily effected. On the other hand, if we adopt the water system, we should have to flush sewage-pipes with at least 25 gallons of water per head per day according to "Parks." I give his exact words:—"There is another reason for believing that an amount of about 25 gallons per head should pass from every house daily into sewers if sewers are used. It is that in most cases this quantity seems necessary to keep the sewers perfectly clear." The total quantity of water required for the 120,000 people would be 3,500,000 gallons daily; to supply such a large amount is impracticable in this Colony under the present circumstances.

In conclusion, I give the following extracts from the same author as being worthy of attention. "In Glasgow, the excreta from one part of the town, containing 80,000 people are now removed every day without admixture except with the garbage from the houses, and are sent long distances to a profit. If the removal can be made daily, the plan is a good one; the manure should not be applied in the immediate neighbourhood of dwellings, and the Bar-rack Commissioners have ordered that it shall not be put on land nearer barracks than 500 yards." "The earth system is coming into great use in India, and is carried out by the medical officers of the army. And I have been told by medical officers that nothing has been done in India of late years which has contributed so much to the health and comfort of the men."

Yours truly,
H. K. SANTAR.

One month's imprisonment was imposed on Kiu Young, bricklayer, for having stolen from the house of Mr Ngam, a married woman who resides in Mosque Street, two bed covers, one wrapper, and one pair of scissors.

DISORDERLY BEHAVIOUR IN A BROTHEL.
Three Chinamen created a disturbance in a brothel in Yau-ma-tei yesterday evening, and also damaged the property of one of the inmates to the extent of $5, for which unruly behaviour and misconduct, the Magistrate fined each $1, in default of payment two days' imprisonment, and ordered them to pay $5 between them as amends to the complainant.

HUNGRY AND NEEDY.
Lum Aft, coolie, took a spoon from the pocket of Faron Shor, seaman, yesterday, while the latter was standing at a money changer's stall in Queen's Road. He was seen to drop a knife immediately after he took the articles from the complainant's pocket. He pleaded poverty, and said he wanted something to eat. For the next three months he will be provided with food and clothing by Government.

A BARBER TRYING TO PICK POCKETS.
Chun Atoi, barber, was brought by the complainant, Albert Barnard, engineer at Kowloon Dock, trying to detect his watch from his chain, while they were surrounded by a crowd of Chinese on the Praya yesterday. Three months' imprisonment, with hard labour will, perhaps, eradicate the barber's desire for annexing other people's property.

FOUR CHINESE SEAMEN.
Thomas Scott, of England, and Frederick Boyham, of Germany, seamen on board the Esmeralda, were charged with fighting and creating a disturbance in the streets on the 8th instant.

The defendants were apprehended while engaged in a broil near No. 6 Police Station.

The first defendant alleged that the second defendant was more intoxicated than he was, and that he was endeavouring to get him on board his vessel. In the struggle the second defendant struck him, and they were arrested. In consequence of the arrest he said he had lost his ship, he also said he was alone without special leave, and the bruises on the second defendant's face were caused by the Sikh policeman striking him. The second defendant, however, said he was drunk, and that he received the marks from fighting with the first defendant.

The Sikh Constable said he found the men fighting, the first on the ground, and the second, who had a knife in his hand, which the first was holding down.

The Magistrate fined the first $2, in default seven days' imprisonment, and the second $2, in default three days' imprisonment.

LARCENY OF NAILS.
Teang Kam was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment with hard labour, after a charge of stealing copper nails from the docks at Aberdeen on the 9th instant had been proved against him.

LARCENY.
Ching Akun, hawker, was sentenced to four months' imprisonment with hard labour for stealing one brass smoking pipe from Wong Chin Lin, married woman, while she was among a crowd on the Praya yesterday.

Wong Achan, hawker, stole a pawn ticket and some pieces of silver from the person of Li Acheung, seaman, while they were in the Recreation Ground on Saturday afternoon. For this crime Wong Achan was committed to prison for three months, the imprisonment to be accompanied with hard labour.

AFRO.
March 31.
One of our oldest and most respected residents left us on the 27th inst., homeward bound, with his family. Dr P. Manson and Mrs Manson were great favourites both with the foreign and native community of this port, and most deservingly so. When the Fokien was about to leave for Hongkong, her decks were crowded with ladies and gentlemen to bid the Doctor and Mrs Manson and Mr Wardlaw (who also took a passage in the same steamer) good-bye, while the Chinese fired any amount of crackers, etc. Dr Manson has distinguished himself by his study of Elephantiasis, his microscopic investigations of Filaria sanguinis hominis, and other professional and scientific researches, besides taking a lively interest in the general welfare of foreigners and natives; and I am glad to hear that there is a prospect that after a year or two he may perhaps return to this port. Dr Ringer has taken his place for the present. The weather has been abominable here on Sunday and Monday (26th and 27th), blowing and raining with a will; but ever since we have had fine and rather warm weather. Dr Ringer is the approaching hot season Amoy will be independent of Hongkong as far as ice is concerned, the ice-machine being now in working order. This machine appears to have a strange way of working, at times it is a wonderfully cooling effect upon the climate of this port; at least a most singular meteorological phenomenon occurred on Kowloon during the night of the 24th inst. It seems that at that time no less than eight able-bodied men froze on to a lot of jewelry, ready cash and other valuable articles, in a certain Chinese house; the various things mentioned stuck to the eight victims of this peculiar freezing process, and everything valuable was lost and disappeared when they left the house. When those men called at the house in question, they were well armed, and had their faces painted. Up to date none of the articles abstracted during the nocturnal visit of these practical jokers have been brought back; and the perpetrators are very particularly wanted.

Some strange wrecks have been floating about in the Formosa Channel, and it is feared that some unfortunate junk may have come to grief during the bad weather on Sunday, the 26th inst. The Revenue Cruiser Edith left this port on the 30th instant for the South Cape of Formosa, to relieve her sister-ship, the Luangfeng. N. C. D. News.

THE CHINA REVIEW.
PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY.
TENTH YEAR.

THIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese, has reached its Tenth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are of interest to the students of the "Far East" and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting notes and original papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new departure has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction, the Magazine would be made more generally useful.

The Review department receives special attention, and endeavours are made to present a careful and concise record of literature on China, etc., and to give criticisms embodying sketches of the most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to send their contributions to the Editor, China Review, care of China Mail Office.

The Notes and Queries are still continued and form an important means of obtaining from and diffusing among students knowledge on obscure points.

The Correspondents' column also affords further and greater facilities for the interchange of views and discussion of various topics. Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, or any of the Modern Languages are received. The papers are contributed by the members of the various Consular, Imperial Customs, and Hongkong Services, and also by the Missionary bodies amongst whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is assiduously cultivated. Amongst the regular contributors are Drs. Chalmers, Eitel, Brutschneider, Hirth, and Hauck, Professor Legge, and Messrs. Balfour, Walters, Stent, Phillips, McIntyre, Groot, Jamieson, Fisher, Kopsch, Parker, Playfair, Giles, and others. The Review is published weekly, and is sent to subscribers by post free of charge. The subscription is fixed at $5.00 per annum, postage included—payable in advance.

Orders for binding volumes will be promptly attended to. Address, "Manager, China Mail Office."

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review."—Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.).

"The China Review  has an excellent table of contents."—Celestial Empire.

"The publication always contains subjects of interest to scholars in the Far East, and the present issue will hold favourably if not advantageously compared, with preceding numbers."—Celestial Empire.

"This number contains several articles of interest and value."—North-China Herald.

"The present number of this periodical, opens with a review of the Foreign Trade of China during 1880. This is rather a new departure for a publication which professes to be purely literary; but considering the comparatively small circulation it enjoys at present among the commercial communities of China, we hail the innovation as likely to recommend the Review to the notice of those who take an interest in the progress of the mercantile pursuits."—North-China Herald.

"The China Review for September-October fully maintains the high standard of excellence which characterizes that publication, and altogether forms a very interesting and readable number. Meteorologists will find an interesting and valuable contribution by Dr. Friess, on 'The Amount of Precipitation (Rain and Snow) of Peking,' showing the results of observations made at the Imperial Russian Observatory at Peking, from 1841 to 1880."—Notes on the Dutch Occupation of Formosa, by Mr. Geo. Phillips, contains some interesting information, although much of it is second-hand. The Notices of New Books include a most generous and appreciative review of 'The Divine Classic of Nan-Hua,' and the Notes and Queries are as usual very interesting."—North-China Daily News.

"A substantial and reliable Review which all students of China and Japan would do well to patronize."—Chungking Press.

"The November-December number of the China Review contains less variety than usual, but the few articles are very interesting. The opening paper by Mr. Herbert A. Giles on 'The New Testament in Chinese' treats of a question that must necessarily be of great importance in the eyes of all missionaries. Mr. E. H. Parker's 'Short Journeys in Szechuen' are continued, and a goodly instalment of these travels in the interior of China is given. Mr. F. H. Balfour contributes a paper of some length entitled 'The Emperor Cheng, founder of the Chinese Empire,' which will be read with genuine interest by students of Chinese history."

A few short notices of New Books and a number of Notes and Queries, one of which 'On Chinese Oaths in Western Borneo and Java' might appropriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete the number."—H.K. Daily Press.

The Review's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the Chinese Expedition to the present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the Chinese Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable, and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, and who are so generally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors."

Some testimonials from Chinese newspapers are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. O. Bowes, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Besides notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be useful to the reviewer, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that 'Notes' and 'Queries' are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the history of the predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance.

Visitors' Column.

We have instituted as an experiment a VISITORS' COLUMN, which we trust will prove successful, and be found useful. To it will be relegated from time to time such items of information, lists, tables and other intelligence as is considered likely to prove valuable to persons passing through the City, and in connection with we have opened a SELECT HOTEL AND BUSINESS DIRECTORY, applications for enrolment into which we are now ready to receive.

Boxholders may also send Patterns to the same places in the same way. Parcels containing Patterns may be wholly closed, if the nature of the contents be first exhibited or stated to the Postmaster General, as he may consider necessary, and approved by him. Printed Circulars may be inserted in such Pattern Packages.

PARCELS.—The public is reminded that there is no such thing as Parcel Post to Europe, &c. Much trouble and disappointment are caused by persistent attempts to send small valuable trifles through the Post. Fans, Curios, Articles of Dress, Fancy Work, and similar presents are continually being refused, the senders having often spent more in Postage than would have been paid for the goods.

Local and Indian Parcel Post.

1. Small Parcels may be sent by Post at Book Rates between Hongkong and any of the British Post Offices in China, as well as to Japan, Macao, Peking, the Straits Settlements, Ceylon and India. They must not exceed the following dimensions, 2 feet long, 1 foot broad, 1 foot deep, weigh more than 1 lb., nor be smaller than 3 in. by 2 in. Such parcels may be wholly closed if they bear this special endorsement, PARCEL, CONTAINING NO LETTERS, but any parcel may be opened by direction of the Postmaster General. In the Case of Parcels for India a declaration of contents and value is required, a printed form for which is supplied gratis. The Registration of Parcels for India and Ceylon is compulsory.

2. The following cannot be transmitted: Parcels insufficiently packed or protected, or liable to be crushed (as handboxes, &c.) Opium, Glass, Liquids, Explosive substances, Matches, Indigo, Dyestuffs, Ices, Meat, Fish, Game, Fruit, Vegetables, or whatever is dangerous to the Mails, or likely to become offensive or injurious in transit.

3. Parcels are as a general rule forwarded by Private Ship, not by Contract Mail Packet. To India they are forwarded by the P. & O. and Indian Mail Packets only, to Ceylon by P. & O. only. No responsibility is accepted with regard to any parcel, unless Registered, and then only to the amount of $10.

4. The public are cautioned not to confound these facilities with a Parcel Post to Europe, &c., which does not exist.

It is necessary that the following rules be strictly observed.

1. No Letter or Packet, whether to be registered or unregistered, can be received for Postage if it contains gold or silver money, jewels, precious articles, or any thing that, as a general rule, is liable to Customs duties.

2. This Regulation prohibits the sending of Patterns of dutiable articles, unless the quantity sent be so small as to make the sample of no value.

3. The limits of weight allowed are as follows:—
Books and Papers—to British Offices, 5 lbs.; to the Continent, &c., 4 lbs.
Patterns—to British Offices, 5 lbs. if without intrinsic value; to the Continent, &c., 8 oz.

Indemnity for the Loss of a Registered Article.

The Post Office is not legally responsible for the safe delivery of Registered correspondence, but it is prepared to make good the contents of such correspondence lost while passing through the Post, to the extent of $10, in certain cases, provided:—

1. That the sender duly observed all the conditions of Registration required.

2. That the letter was securely enclosed in a reasonably strong envelope.

3. That application was made to the Postmaster General of Hongkong immediately the loss was discovered, the envelope being invariably forwarded with such application unless it also is lost.

4. That the Postmaster General is satisfied that the loss occurred whilst the correspondence was in the custody of the British Postal administration in China, that it was not caused by any fault on the part of the sender, by destruction by fire, or shipwreck, nor by the dishonesty or negligence of any person not in the employment of the Hongkong Post Office.

5. No compensation can be paid for mere damage to fragile articles such as portraits, watches, handsewn bound books, &c., which reach their destination, although in a broken or deteriorated condition.
